

Audrius Dulskas, MD, PhD

WG Member

www.chirurgas.com

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/audrius-dulskas-804065a0/?originalSubdomain=lt>

Primary training in Vilnius University, Lithuania. Colorectal training abroad: S.Korea (Yonsei University), Japan, US (Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Institute, Cleveland Clinic, Mayo Clinic), Denmark, Germany, Austria, South African Republic, Italy, France (Ircad), Netherlands, Sri Lanka.

Over 150 ISI web of science articles.

Specific interest in cancer survivors' quality of life and screening programs.

Active member of ESCP, ISUCRS and ASCRS – member of Research, Clinical trial committees.

Board member of several scientific journals.

From 2020

Vilnius University Faculty of Medicine – associate professor

From 2019

Board member of National Cancer Institute Council – vice president

From 2014

National Cancer Institute – colorectal surgeon

2016

PhD thesis “Changes in urogenital and anorectal function in patients undergoing radical surgery for rectal cancer”